

NewsExtra

5 February 2025

MEAs ready at last

What is the timeline?

The IEU has continued to discuss the draft multi-enterprise agreements (MEAs) for teachers and professional and operational staff in the new year. The drafts have just now been finalised to our satisfaction. The AIS has advised the union that details of the voting process and the MEAs will be provided to school employees from Thursday 6 February, with the vote on the MEAs expected in late February. The IEU will recommend a 'Yes' vote.

What have we achieved?

Congratulations to all IEU members who supported the union's Now's the Time campaign in 2024. Your action has resulted in significant improvements to pay, entitlements and working conditions. This victory demonstrates the power of a united and collective action, and we thank you for your support.

A summary of these improvements will be provided to members shortly.

Pay increases

A new classification structure has been developed for the NSW agreement and also for preschool and childcare staff in the ACT agreement. The translocation arrangements and pay tables for Professional and Operational Staff in NSW and the ACT are now available on the union website.

Click here, or see below, to view the translocation tables for your new classification level and rates of pay.

The union expects that members will receive the pay rises (backdated to February) in March when the Fair Work Commission approves the agreements.

What you can do

This significant outcome could not have been achieved without the dedication, commitment, and support of our members. But there is still more to do. We need to ensure that union members continue to build on this outcome. The stronger we are, the greater capacity we have to obtain competitive salary and condition outcomes.

Did you know that the person most likely to sign up a new union member is an existing member – YOU! Every new member strengthens our power at the bargaining table.

